Hangouts . . .

Friday night . . . going to town . . . those speed breakers are rough on my new white letter tires . . . it's so crowded it takes 5 minutes to circle Burger Chef . . . Swivel beat "J" Bird down the Snapps Ferry straight . . . let's stroke on over to East Gate - too late; it's past 9:30 . . . the crowd is beginning to pick up; the ballgames must be over . . . we blew their drawers off, 18 to 0 . . . I want a large pepperoni pizza and a large cherry coke . . .

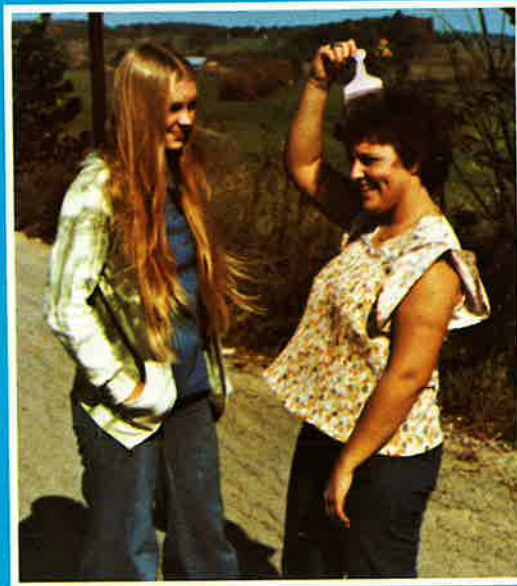

After Hours

Student life is a fire which is not extinguished after the 3:10 bell sounds. After hour interests are a major factor in the lives of C-D students. Many things are included in their private lives, such as working, eating out, music, loafing in town, and shopping. These things along with school studies and functions are part of the large circle which makes up the day-to-day life for the average teenager.

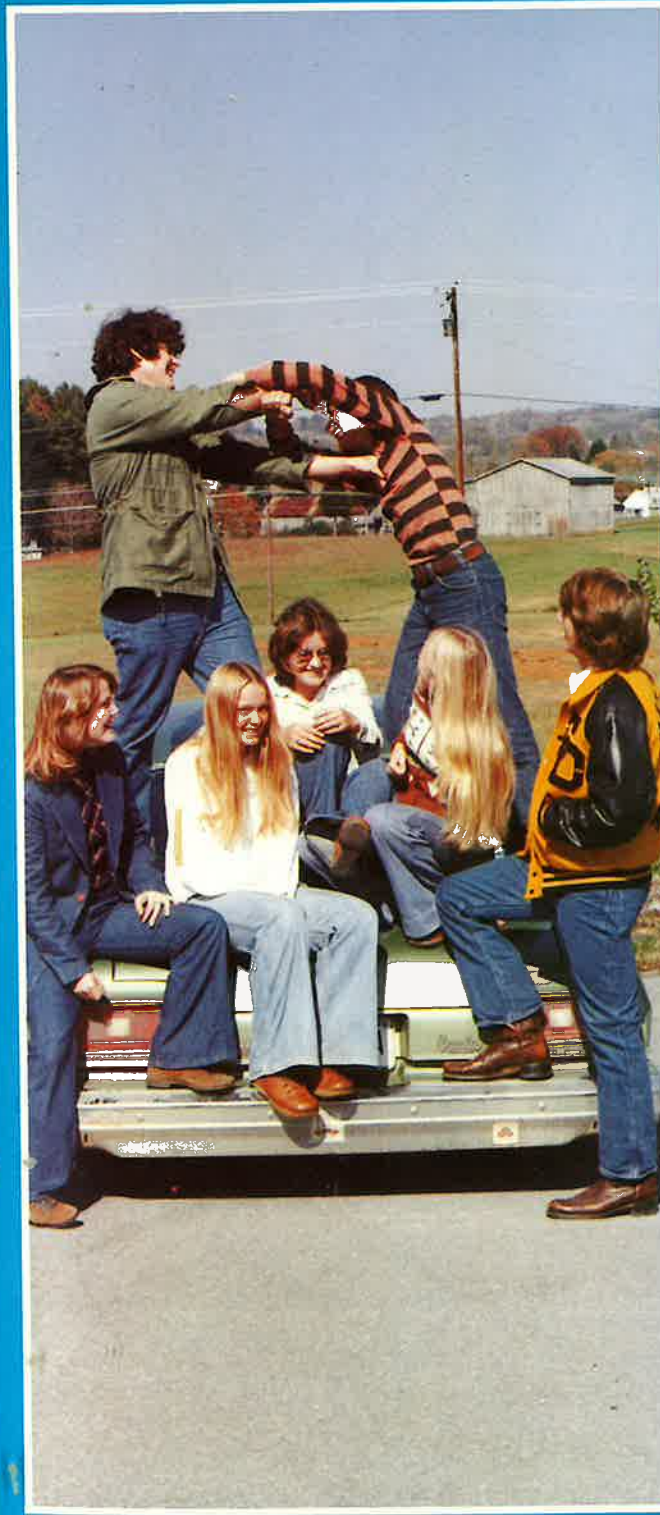

Fads Reveal Changing

This year at Chuckey-Doak there has been a noticeable change in fashion. T-shirts are a new craze; jumpsuits and painters' pants express the casual life; earth shoes bring out the nature in us, and platform shoes make a loud noise as we "clunk" down the halls. Many of us demonstrate the new look by decking out in co-ordinating separates and knee-length dresses. However, blue jeans are still the dominant attire for the C-D student.

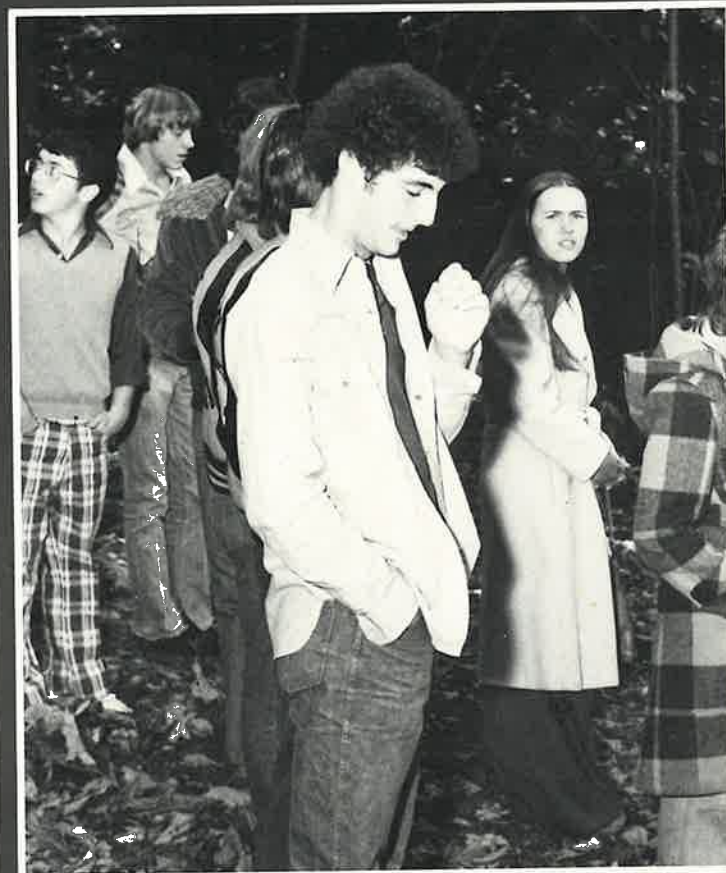

Life Styles and Ideas

Expressions

A smile,
A tear
Shuffle through the hallways of my mind,
Brushing away cobwebs
Found in forgotten corners.
In the silence of night
I see a kaleidoscope of expressions:
Laughing faces,
Sad faces,
Angry faces,
And I smile with the crowded memories:
But with the coming of day,
It fades like the morning dew.

Every morning students arrive at Chuckey-Doak in a cloud of exhaust fumes - by car, by motorcycle, or by bus. Some students travel on bicycle or by foot. During the lunch hour it is not uncommon to find people sitting on or in cars talking; you can even find some people playing practical jokes on other students by letting the air out of tires or by decorating car windows.

Dedication

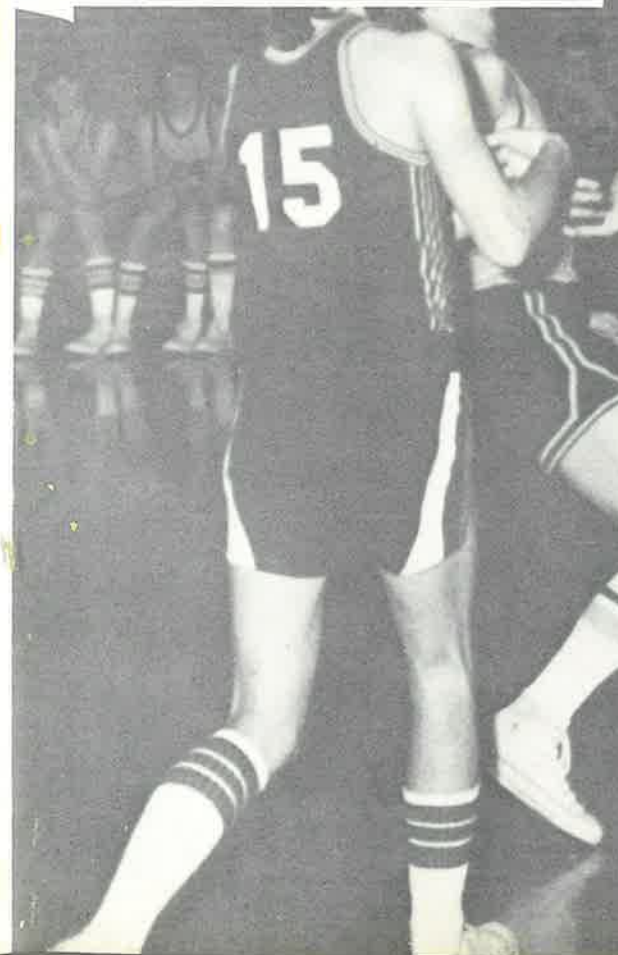

Mildred Luttrell

As a token of our love and appreciation for a wonderful teacher, friend, and companion, we dedicate the 1977 ACCOLADE to Mrs. Luttrell for her many years of unselfish devotion to the students and faculty of Chuckey-Doak High School.

... come on C-D ... crazy ref. ... Coach lost that one

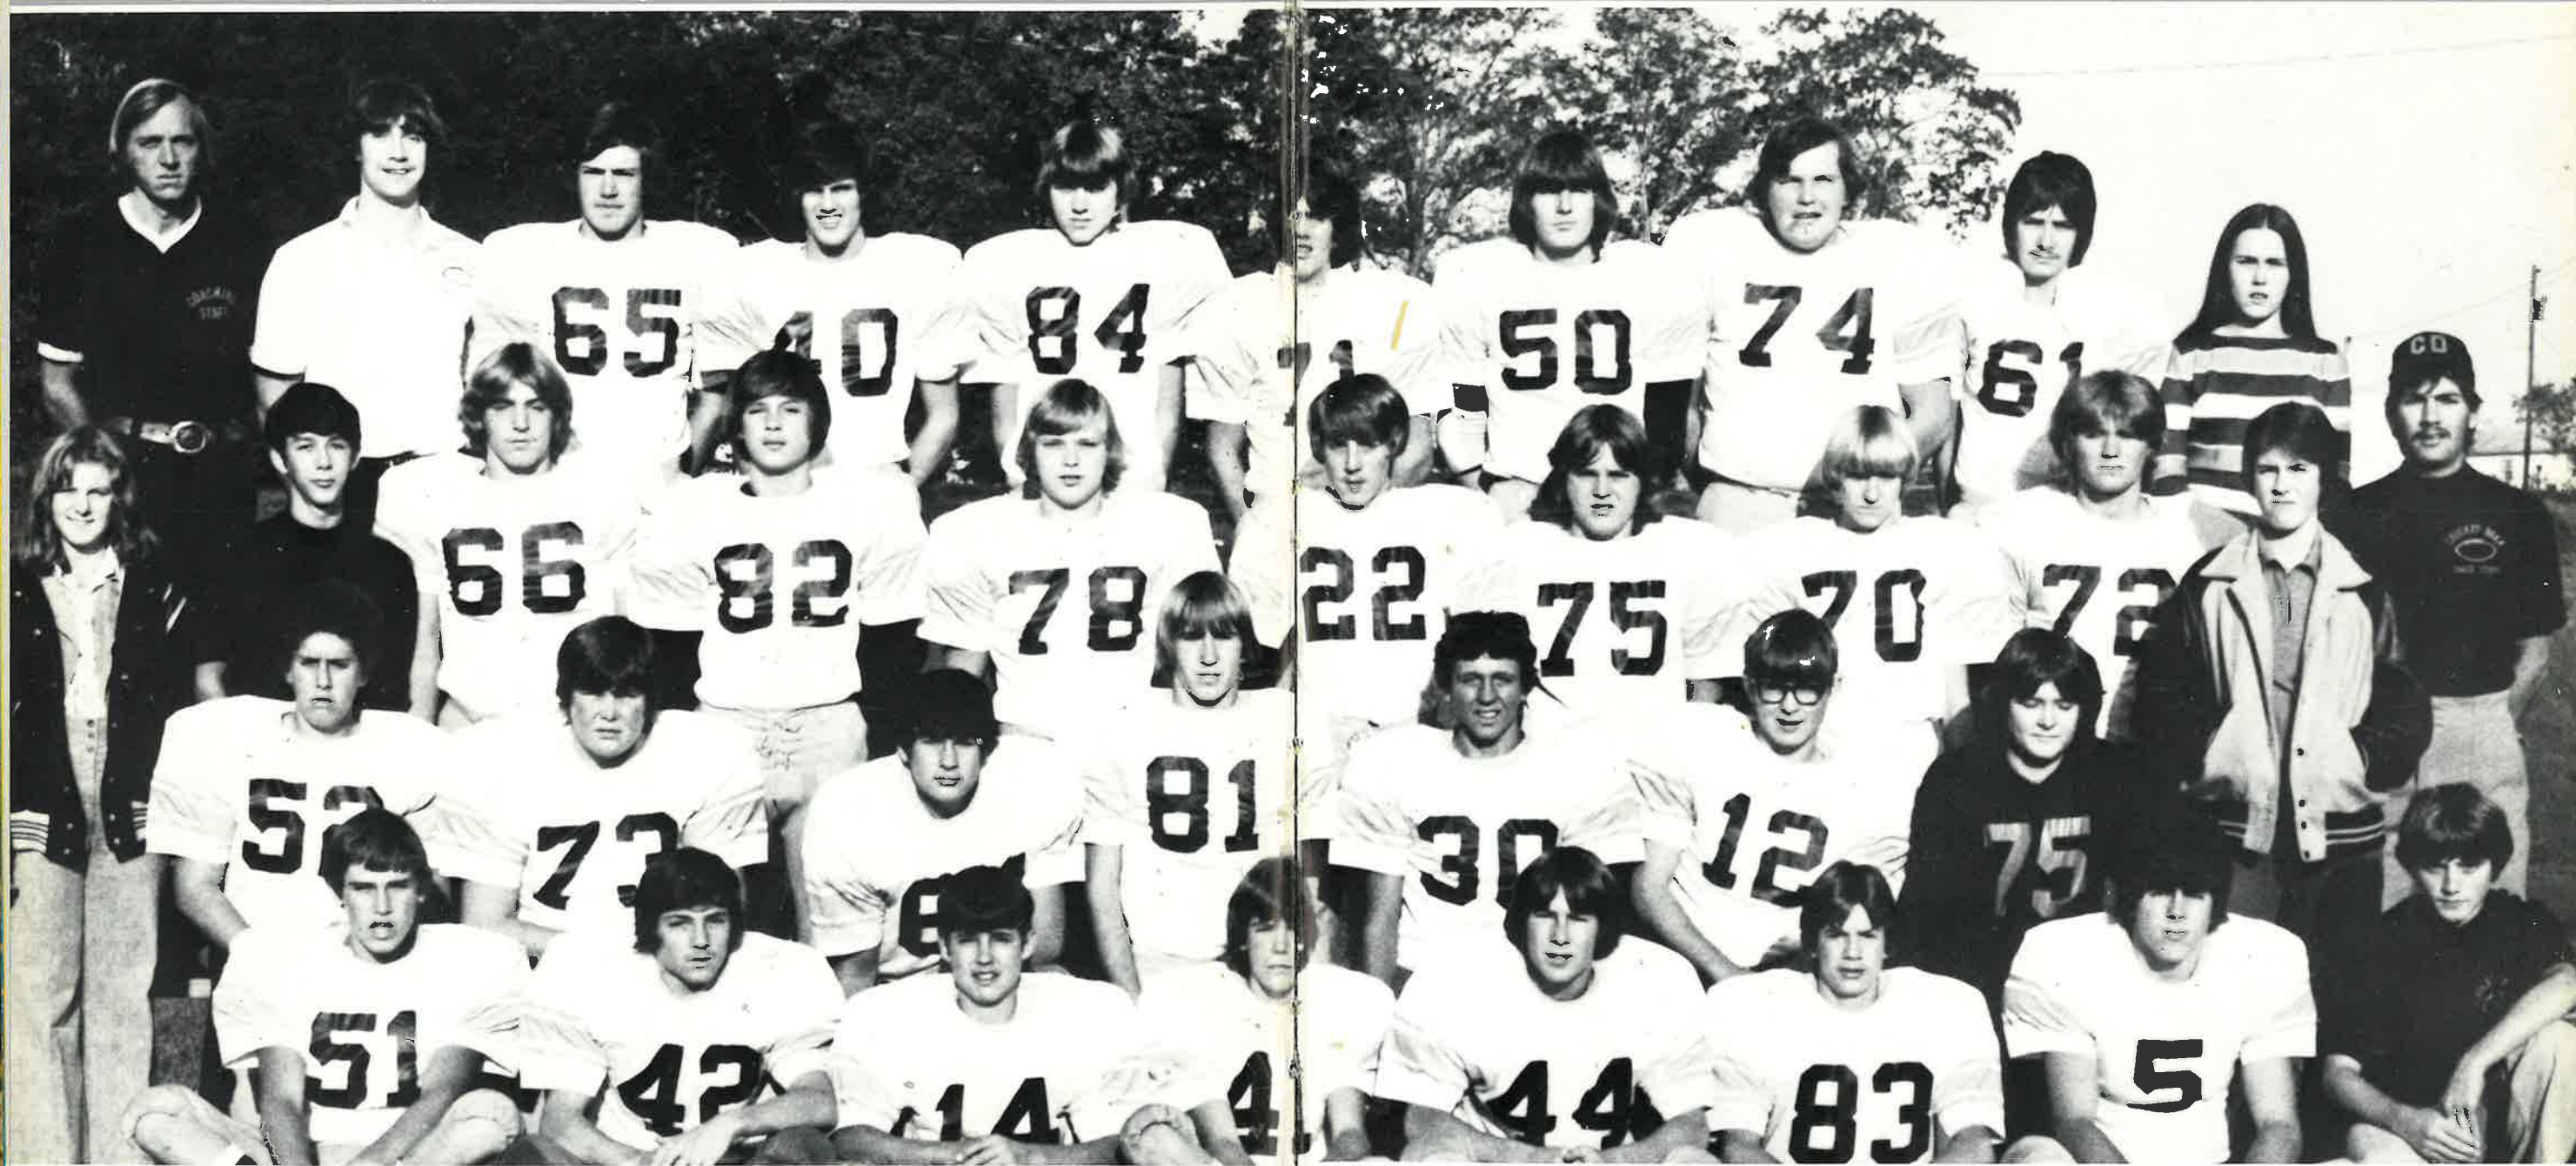

FANS . . . they come from everywhere for one purpose - to scream, to yell, to cheer for victory. They include just about everyone - faculty, administrators, students, parents, alumni, and even future opponents. Ultimately, these BLACK KNIGHT FANS are the backbone of C-D's athletic program . . . for without fans, where would our sports be?

After the season, the county high school coaches and the sportswriters of the GREENEVILLE SUN selected a "Greene County High School All Star Football Team." Members of this team were chosen from the four county football teams on the basis of performance in the regular season games. Congratulations to Guards - Dennis D. and Tony K., Cornerbacks - Bo D. and Gordon K., Def. Tackle - Doug D., and Center - Neil A. Hey guys, WAY TO GO!

They were the team leaders. When we were ahead, they had led us there; when we were behind, they were responsible for getting us in gear. They were to see that the job got done, and these young men did just that. . .

Water bottles, statistics, care of the equipment, upkeep of the field, running errands for the coach, cheering the team on, etc. were among the duties of the football managers. . . . BECKY DAVIS, CRAIG BOWLBY, JIM SWATZELL, STAR WILLIAMS, CLARK "RAT" BLAKE, JEANINE COLLINS, MIKE THOMPSON.

In review of the whole season, I would have to say it was a big success, not only in the win-loss department (second varsity year, 5 wins, 5 losses), but also in the department of maturing. All of us made mistakes this season, and will make them next season, but did we learn from our mistakes? The answer is yes. Our team was small, but it was the best team I've ever coached or been associated with.

My thanks to the Senior players for being the inspiration they were to our younger players, and for helping me with my coaching responsibilities.

I truly can say that I learned to love every one of you, and I'll be looking forward to next year. Good luck in the future.

Golf

Coach Jack Kilday

Last year C-D's golf team shot 3' under par for the season with a 8-3 record. Lynna Rader did not participate in regular season golf matches, but played in and won the District and Regional Girls' Golf Tournaments. She then traveled to Murfreesboro and placed fourth in the Girls' State Golf Tournament. Good luck to the 1977 Golf Team and "Keep On Strokin."

COACH JERRY HOLT . . . Last year was a pretty good year; the boys' record was (-6, and the girls, after being 0-5 in their first season, had a record of 6-4. We had 2 players seeded very high in the District Tourney - Chuck Bowman was seeded fifth out of a field of 40, and Janie Jaynes (graduated as a Jr.) ranked fourth among 25 contenders.

This year both teams should have winning seasons. The girls' team should be as good as any in the county.

Lettering players who return this year are Sr. Chuck Bowman, Sr. Tim Schofield, Jr. Tim Stroud, Jr. Bill Britton, Jr. Tim Higgs, Jr. Tim Peek, Sr. Lisa Waddell, Sr. Annazel Greene, Sr. Vicki Brooks, Jr. Judy Davis, Soph. DeAnn Bowman, and Soph. Kathy Walters.

Top prospects are Russ Metcalf, David Woolsey, Derrick Gosnell, Sammy Hansel, Alice Julian, and Jeanine Collins.

Baseball

As the official baseball team will not be picked until later in the year, the following are prospective players for C-D's 1977 season:

Finishing out the roster are Nathan Malone and Danny Scott, who "can wear only one kind of uniform at a time," and Larry Cutshall, whose whereabouts were unknown when this photo was taken.

... "way to hit" ... grand slam ... "gimme a chew" ...

Coach Jim Brown will instruct the Black Knights for his fourth season. Coach Ray Maupin will be his sidekick as assistant coach.

Only one more month of goofing off, shooting basketball, or leaving sixth period for prospective baseball players. Soon the winter weather will pass and spring sounds will echo in our ears. Along with the singing of birds and splashing of spring rains, will come the cracking of bats, the slapping of gloves, and the sound of cleated feet.

And after much practicing and giving the field a facelift, C-D's 1977 Baseball Team will once again enjoy a season of America's "favorite national pastime."

Homecoming Week 1976-77

The theme of this year's homecoming was "Knights Are Forever." Student Government was in charge of the activities, which included Jean and Top em' Day, Golden Oldie Day, Chivalry Day, and Black and Gold Day. On Friday the traditional tricycle race and the three-legged race were held.

The week's festivities were topped off by the crowning of the 1977 Homecoming Queen, Miss Pam Smith. Her court included Pam Krase, 1st Runner-up and Debi Eades 2nd Runner-up. The victory of the Chuckey-Doak Black Knights over Unaka made this year's homecoming a complete success.

1976: A Look Back

Today is the final day of this Bicentennial Year. News events, both locally, nationally, and internationally, have come at a rapid clip during the past 12 months. On the local scene, it has been one of the biggest years ever for news events, and the headlines shown above are only a very few of the happenings of 1976. The year of 1976 is reviewed in stories and pictures on pages

18 and 19 of today's issue. Today's review includes only stories on the local scene of non-bicentennial happenings during the year. Stories dealing with Bicentennial events this year will be published as a supplement to The Sun's Bicentennial Edition, which rolled off the press in July. The special supplement to that issue will be published in January.

1. In home fires, most people are killed by:
A. Heat
B. Flames
C. Smoke
D. Falling timber
2. Electric heating pads can be safely pinned to bedding, blankets, or mattresses.
☐ True ☐ False

1. C. Smoke (including the invisible poisonous gases in it) is believed to be responsible for 50 to 75 percent of deaths at the fire scene.
2. FALSE. Pins can damage the insulation of the wiring, heating element or heat controls contained within the pad. Be sure your pad bears the UL Listing Mark.

Moonshine Era Recalled

By JOHN NOLAN
Associated Press Writer
NASHVILLE (AP) — The days of moonshine liquor are almost dead in Tennessee. But, the memories live on for some veteran federal revenue agents.
It's to the '40s and '50s that their memories take them, to the days of stakeouts in the backwoods, the high speed chases by boat and car and the devious plays needed to outfox the illicit distillers.
"This fellow had a plastic water line running up to a spring," recalled Virgil Orr, a retired veteran of the moonshine days, about one case.
"We would put a leaf over the valve so it cut the water off," Orr said, smiling. "Then, he comes to see about it, and we catch him."
The moonshine industry has almost disappeared. Where illicit whisky once flowed freely from Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Atlanta and other Southern cities, federal agents uncovered only 14 illegal stills in Tennessee in 1976.

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP) — Gary Mark Gilmore, the killer who demanded death and twice attempted suicide in prison, was executed by a Utah firing squad today, held to a chair by white nylon straps.
The 36-year-old Gilmore was the first person to be executed in the United States in nearly 10 years. His lengthy fight for the execution, which was stayed three times, drew worldwide attention.
Gilmore, sentenced for the shooting death of a Provo, Utah, motel clerk, wore a T-shirt and pants as he faced the five-man rifle squad in what was once the prison cannery. He died at 8:06 a.m. MST.

November Coldest On Record Flood Of Executions Feared

WASHINGTON (AP) — How will the death of Gary Gilmore affect those on the nation's Death Rows? Attorneys who fought unsuccessfully for Gilmore's life are worried that a "floodgates open" mentality may lead to an attitude that some executions are inevitable.
Gilmore became the first criminal executed in the United States since 1967 when his life ended before a Utah firing squad this morning.
In an interview published just before his death, Gilmore said he hoped to avoid a "snowball effect" by which his execution could speed others.
He said his concern for the fate of other men facing possible execution was part of the reason why he twice tried to commit suicide.

There are many cultural contradictions that face children, as well as adults. These cannot be ignored or avoided, but parents can help youngsters develop a positive value structure that will enable them to lead rich human lives in the midst of technological revolution.
"We are living in a 'nightmare of realities' when each of us is torn by conflicting values as traditional norms weaken," says Marion B. Mariner, University of Tennessee Extension family life specialist.

39th U.S. President Sworn In

WASHINGTON (AP) — In soft Georgia accent, Jimmy Carter today uttered the simple oath set out in the Constitution, and became the first president of America's third century.

And in the amity that marks American shifts of power from party to party and president to president, Carter and the departing Gerald Ford rode together down Pennsylvania Avenue to the Capitol for the swearing-in.

It was the moment that Carter had campaigned for through 31 primaries and a bruising election campaign against Ford. But past political differences melted away in the grandeur of inauguration day.

Along the route, people gathered to cheer both the old and the new president. Inauguration day is a holiday for government employees and many were out in the 26-degree sunshine.

A possibility of snow was forecast for late in the day when the seven grand inaugural balls were to start. But no clouds marked this day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford, Carter and his wife, and the incoming and outgoing vice presidents and their wives, had chatted for 40 minutes over coffee in the White House before proceeding down the street nicknamed "The Avenue of the Presidents."

The Carters began their day by watching on television a prayer service at the Lincoln Memorial, then going to church themselves. On returning, they walked hand-in-hand to the White House where the Fords met them at the door with smiles and handshakes.

"I feel great, looking forward to it," Carter said of the coming ceremony and parade as he left for the service at the First Baptist Church. He returned from church to Blair House, then walked across the street for the traditional meeting with the outgoing first family.

Earlier, Ford said goodbye to 75 members of the staff that served him in his presidency of 29 months and 11 days.

"I've enjoyed the White House mainly because of the fine people," he said. "You all contributed to an administration I think was good and which history will treat kindly."

Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller, who had spent the night at the White House, told Ford: "Mr. President, this is the proudest moment of our lives."

Carter was beaming as he made his first public appearance of a day that will not end until he has visited the last of seven parties — sometime after 2 a.m. Friday.

He was joined at the private church service by many members of his Cabinet and by Vice President-elect Walter F. Mondale and his wife. Mrs. Mondale's father, a retired Presbyterian minister from Minnesota, helped conduct the half-hour service.

Carter's sister, Ruth Stapleton, an evangelist, and the Rev. Martin Luther King Sr., father of the slain civil rights leader, led 5,000 persons in prayer in front of the Lincoln Memorial. Also taking part was Carter's pastor from Plains, Ga., the Rev. Bruce Edwards.

The new president watched the service on television and heard Edwards say:

"It is fitting that we gather for prayer because the man for whom we pray is himself a man of prayer, a man who seeks God's direction."

Carter describes himself as a re-born Christian.
